

UCLA SYMPOSIA ON MOLECULAR & CELLULAR BIOLOGY

15 March 1990

2032 Armacost Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90025 USA
(213) 207-5042 Phone
(213) 207-2397 Fax

Harmon McAllister, Ph.D.
Research Director
The Council for Tobacco Research - U.S.A., Inc.
900 Third Avenue
New York NY 10022

Dear Dr. McAllister:

I want to thank you and The Council, on behalf of the Organizers of the 1991 UCLA Symposia conference on Molecular Basis for Oxidant Injury by Leukocytes for your support. Such support is used exclusively to help defray the travel and lodging costs incurred by the speakers.

As you know, The Council for Tobacco Research will be acknowledged in the Programs and the Abstract Books as well as in any publication of papers which may result from the 1991 UCLA Symposia conferences. Programs and Abstract Books are distributed at the meetings to all registered participants.

The UCLA Symposia, facing an office space problem until new building construction is completed in a few years, is currently in leased office space off-campus. As a consequence of now having rental payments as part of our operating expenses, the Vice Chancellor has authorized the Symposia to deposit its corporate gifts into an Income account as a fee for service rather than a Gift account. Since Gift accounts are subject to a 5% overhead charge paid from funds available for Symposia G&A, the Vice Chancellor's authorization represents a savings to the Symposia to help offset the cost of operating in leased office space.

We sincerely appreciate your continuing interest in and support for the UCLA Symposia conference series. If you have any questions concerning your gift, do not hesitate to call me.

Sincerely,

Robert (Hank) Harwood, Ph.D.
Gifts and Grants Manager